VERNON—Stampede Gal's was the registration name but Vivian Schultz is taking the whole issue very calmly, at present.

Vernon Blood Donor Drive Opens Today

(Courier's Vernon Bureau)
VERNON—Blood, it is hoped, will flow freely at the Boy Scout Hall today.
The event is not a Kelowna Vernion hockey game, but the start of the Canadian Red Cross three day blood drive. The drive will start at 1:30 p.m. and continue afternoon and evenings of the next two days.
Workers were busy this morning setting up registration tables, and chairs, for prospective donors, and Red Cross girls are in town.
"Best Kelowna's total contribution," Mayor Backer suggested. But he added the aim is not community victory but the donating of blood is vital if Red Cross mercy services are to continue.
"Bear in mind also," he urged, "that the life you save, may be your own."

Canada Favors Scientific Pooling

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada has agreed to in Washington talks last week.
Mr. Diefenbaker, talking to reporters immediately after Mr. Macmillan's departure by air, suggested Canada needs a national training policy for scientists, engineers and technicians.
He said Canada could make a contribution of "first importance" in the field of peaceful uses of atomic energy.
"We've got to act together," he said. "We've fallen apart in the last few years."
There had been little exchange of information among Western nations. Maximum co-operation such as existed during the Second World War must be restored.
"We've started along the path way leading to the greatest possible production of things needed for our survival," he said.
Russia could not have done anything better for the West than launch its "little moon."
The Canadian leader said the launching "brought about our interest in the preservation of the free world" and that "without the moon we would have continued our feelings of disinterest."
Mr. Macmillan before his departure said: "Self-sufficiency is out of date. Not even the United States can stand alone."

Student Spelling Horrible, Valley Teachers Told

OLIVER, B.C. (CP) — Delegates to the Okanagan Teachers Association convention were told Saturday that spelling of students graduating from B.C. high schools is atrocious.
A. J. D'Ath of the B.C. Telephone Company said "in interviewing over 10,000 job applicants between 18 and 25, our company has found their English and spelling is atrocious."
He called for more discipline in the classroom to correct what he called the "unbearable attitude" of many students.

British-Canadian Free Trade Demanded By Young Liberals

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — Immediate negotiations to establish a free trade area between Britain and Canada in the next 10 years were advocated by B.C. Young Liberals at their association's annual convention here Sunday.
The federal government was urged to undertake a complete study of the effects of the establishment of a free trade area with Britain would have on Canadian business.
Delegates asserted that free trade with Britain would broaden Canada's world markets and lessen her dependence on U.S. imports and capital, which threaten to undermine the independence of Canada.
B.C. AID
Free trade would benefit most Canadian industries and particularly those in B.C., delegates said. Virtually the only adverse effect would be to the textile industry which was said to have

The issue in question of course is the Irish hospital sweepstakes. The race that will receive undivided attention in 54 B.C. homes, Wednesday, is the Cambridge Handicap, one of England's classics.
Vivian, who lives at No. 9, City View Motel, here in Vernon, is holding ticket QCC-13938. The horse, on which her chances for as much as $140,000 rest, is Alcimedus.
The pretty, 24-year-old brunette, striving very hard not to exhibit any excitement, explained that she has only the newspapers to verify her lucky ticket, and would prefer some official notification, before she gets her hopes up.
If, and she stressed the word, she is destined to receive some share of the prize, if not the full $140,000, Vivian would like to go to Hawaii.
LET 'ER RAIN
When first queried on what she would do with all that money, she facetiously expressed a desire, "to stand in the middle of the room, and throw it all over myself."
The pseudonym "Stampede Gal", was chosen, as she had just returned from the Calgary Stampede.
Miss Schultz, her friends, and probably a good part of Vernon, will be listening Wednesday and hoping that she will join the ranks of those fortunate few, who win sweepstakes.

Kelowna Students Mark Civic Administration Day

Written for The Courier
By BRIAN MILLER

Kelowna High School students took part Monday in Civic Administration Day.
They occupied themselves during the day at various Kelowna places of business learning the "how and why" of "What runs Kelowna?"
Hugh Swayze, president of the Student Council, became mayor, and the members of the council became aldermen.
At The Daily Courier, Karen Currie, Pat Curtis and I were welcomed to "help out" as part of the staff, and to learn aspects of the newspaper business.
Karen and I were placed in the editorial department and Pat in the business office.
I became a reporter for a day, accompanying Courier Staffer Al Denegre on his regular news beat. His first assignment this morning was in connection with the accident yarn you see on this page.
He first visited the police station.
FACT-FINDING
I accompanied him to the police headquarters to get the facts.
At the station, we found the corporal could not give us any information, as the night men who investigated were home and asleep. We left, then, and went back to the news room where Al called the hospital in an effort to get at the story from another source.

The hospital supplied names of those involved, but nothing more. He then called one of the persons who had been in the accident, but that party wasn't there and another had no phone.
Meanwhile, The Courier decided civic administration day was important enough locally to run pictures of the event and we three at The Courier became subjects for the photographer's camera.
After I had been snapped in a picture with Karen Currie, Al Denegre took me to police court, to see if any charges were being pressed regarding this accident. Unfortunately, nothing turned up there, though I had a good opportunity to observe police court procedure and to meet His Worship Magistrate White. I also saw the students assigned to the police station, who were there, also.

Meanwhile, Irving Gorbey, photographer for the Courier, showed us some photos he had made of the accident. It was then decided which of the pictures should be used, and what dimensions should be taken.
Of course, this is just one of the many things done at The Daily Courier to obtain the news of the district for people in the Valley. As it was, we didn't have too much luck on this story, but it gives you an idea of what some small news items need in the

REDS OUST ARMY CHIEF

Westerners See Nikita Power Up

LONDON (AP)—Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov has been fired from the Praesidium (Politburo) of the Soviet Communist party, according to unconfirmed reports circulating in Moscow and reaching London and Paris today.
Zhukov, relieved as defence minister Saturday, was appointed to the Praesidium after the party's central committee meeting last June. He had been a candidate member since February, 1956.
The Praesidium rules the party, and thus the Soviet Union.

SEAFOOD SHOWING NOW NEXT WEEK

The seafood demonstration scheduled to be held in the Senior High School auditorium Tuesday evening at 8:30 has been postponed until next week, for the reason that home economist Mary Smith is a flu victim.
A further date for this demonstration will be published as soon as possible.

Influenza Cripples City Police

Influenza has almost crippled local RCMP operations.
This morning, eight constables were on sick parade, most of them confined to bed by doctors' orders. This is more than half of the total strength of 14, all ranks, on the local detachment.
To cope with the emergency, men are putting in double shifts to keep the absolute minimum of services operating.
The emergency is expected to gradually disappear as men come back to work.
NO VACCINE
Asian 'flu vaccine, expected here weeks ago, still hasn't arrived, it was learned officially this morning. Police are among the top priority for vaccine.
There has been no positive evidence of the presence of Asian 'flu in the city as yet. Many persons are suffering from influenza and some of these have developed complications, such as pneumonia. The variety of 'flu currently prevalent has not been positively identified.

Kelowna Cadi Issues Stern Road Warning

"This sort of thing has got to stop!"
This general warning intended for all motorists, was reiterated in police court this morning by Magistrate Donald White as he pronounced a $100 fine on a 22-year-old man, who had pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol.
The magistrate also suspended William Zarikoff's licence to drive for three months. Zarikoff was arrested near Reid's Corner, in Rutland Saturday night, after he was spotted driving in an erratic manner by a highway patrol officer of the RCMP.
"This is a serious matter, and I am going to take serious action to have it stopped," Magistrate White warned.

MARSHAL ZHUKOV
... Reds Fear Him ...

Top Reds Fear Role Of Zhukov

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
Associated Press Staff Analyst
In Moscow today Western observers are rereading a speech made by Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov in Leningrad last July 15—because they feel it gives clues to the reasons for his replacement as defence minister.
The day before the speech Leningrad had given the Soviet war hero a tremendous ovation—a fact of equal importance.
In his speech Zhukov emerged as a powerful political personality. He spoke out with great feeling against party leaders guilty of trying to prevent investigations into the crimes of the Stalin era. His remarks were pointed ostensibly at Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar K. Gaganovich, who a few weeks before had been fired from their high government and party posts.
But Zhukov's remarks in the minds of his many Leningrad listeners could easily be extended to cover other Stalin associates who remained in the Kremlin—government party secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev, Premier Bulganin and others.
FEAR ZHUKOV'S PRESTIGE
Zhukov in essence was calling for continued investigation into abuses under the "personality cult"—under Stalin—and for punishment of those to blame.
He himself was a victim of Stalin's intrigues after the war when he was demoted, much as he has now again been demoted apparently because the party leadership fears his prestige and potential political power.
Demands for continued investigations into Stalinist crimes threaten the position of Khrushchev and certain other present party leaders. These men did not mind exposing the crimes of Beria, Molotov, Malenkov, Kaganovich and others among their rivals for power as long as this got rid of these rivals. But they don't want the investigations to touch on their own role in the Stalinist leadership.
Zhukov, who had no part in Stalin's purges, has no fear of them. Every time more exposures come out, his stature as a national hero is enhanced.

ONE IN HOSPITAL

Five Injured In Collision

Five persons were treated for injuries, and one still is in hospital, as the aftermath of a noisy, startling two-car crash at Harvey and Richter shortly after midnight Saturday.
Heavy damage was caused to the two cars, one of which ended in the vacant lot at the intersection, and the other against a pole on Harvey Avenue.
Still in hospital is Audrey Wright, Kelowna, a passenger in the auto shown in the accompanying picture. Driver was Fred Appel of Kelowna. Christa Graf, also a passenger in the same car, also was treated for injuries.
The second car was driven by Cecil Metcalfe, Kelowna. Mr. Metcalfe, and Fred Hoffman and John Metcalfe, both of Winfield, all were treated, the latter being retained in hospital for several hours.
Under-staffed detachment of the RCMP, with half of its strength depleted by the ravages of the current influenza spell, was unable to provide full details of the accident.
However it is known that the Appel car was proceeding south on Richter and the Metcalfe car west on Harvey at the moment of impact.

Drink Can Cause Cancer

By ALTON L. BLAKELEE
Associated Press
Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Heavy drinking plus heavy smoking equals greater risk of throat and mouth cancer, especially for pipe and cigar smokers, a cancer researcher said today.
Heavy drinking was defined as consistently taking seven or more shots of hard liquor a day.
The relative risk appears greater than with cigarette smokers.
LIMITED STUDY
The findings apply only to drinkers of hard liquor, the annual meeting of the American Cancer Society was told. Not enough wine and beer drinkers have been analyzed yet for conclusive data.

A scientist said he cannot tell whether alcohol alone can start the mouth and throat cancer. He hasn't enough data on heavy drinkers who aren't heavy smokers to make a comparative study.
Purely as theories, alcohol might make the throat and mouth tissues more permeable to tobacco smoke, or heavy drinking might produce diet deficiencies making the tissues more susceptible to cancer-causing agents.
Lung cancer has been associated with cigarette smoking by some statistical studies, with little effect blamed on pipe or cigar smoking.

Pipe and cigar smokers in this new study have a higher incidence of cancer higher up in the respiratory tract.
The study is based on 209 men with cancer of the larynx, 209 men of the same ages free of cancer, 132 men with lung cancer, 343 men with cancer of the oral cavity and 207 patients who had either non-cancerous sores of the head, neck or chest or cancers of the lower gastro-intestinal region.

British Pursuing Enlightened Policy In African Colonies

Much has been written about the manner in which Britain in by gone days handled her colonial empire. Much too has been written about the enlightened present policy of the British government in assisting their colonial peoples to develop their own governments as quickly as possible.

However it is doubtful if a clearer picture of British policy has ever been made available to the people of Kelowna than that presented by Brian Roberts, a recent Canadian Club speaker. Mr. Roberts is a South African who is now residing in Canada, and thoroughly knows his subject as far as it applies to the African continent at least.

Mr. Roberts freely admitted that before the turn of the century Britain pursued a rugged imperialistic policy and cited the Boer War as an outstanding example of a flagrant disregard of the rights of small nations. However, he argued that in the past half-century the British policy had been reversed and Britain had led the world in providing self-government for its colonial empire.

Confining his comments solely to Africa, he pointed out that four years after the conclusion of the three-year Boer War Britain handed back the Orange Free State and the Transvaal to the people leading to the establishment a few years later of the Union of South Africa which had as its two leaders Botha and Smuts. Under these two leaders the Boer and British people were treated as equals and were being integrated into a common people. The blacks, too, were gradually being given rights and privileges which, had the course of events been maintained, would have eventually solved the difficult color problem.

In Ghana, the new independent Commonwealth member, he said if there was any criticism of British policy it is that it had been too liberal and had moved too quickly. He felt self-government had come there before the blacks were quite ready for it and that there would be trouble, plenty of it, but that the success of British policy in Ghana could not be judged today but would have to be judged in the light of fifty years hence, which, he was sure, would prove present British policy to have been right.

A most daring experiment in self-government is now being tried in the confederation of three British territories, North and South Rhodesia and Nyasaland. There the blacks have been given equal economic and social status, a very revolutionary condition in Africa and vastly different from the conditions of slavery and segregation they must endure just across the Limpopo River in the Union of South Africa.

Steps toward self-government are being taken in other British African colonies and it may be expected that announcements of further steps in this enlightened policy will be forthcoming in the near future.

Mr. Roberts sounded a warning to the Canadian people on the color problem. He said we were fortunate that we had a period of grace during which we might condition ourselves because it was obviously inevitable that this country too would have a large colored population within a hundred years. He emphasized that throughout the world, just as in Africa, the colored races far outnumbered the white and that it would be impossible to segregate this continent as a white island in a colored sea. He felt that the British approach might well be a guide to Canadians in the formation of their thinking. Canadians should now commence to condition themselves to the fact that the colored races must be accepted on a basis of equality.

Editorial Comments

Most readers will remember how MacLean's Magazine last year was caught with its literary trousers down at the time of the federal election. Now the Canadian magazine has company in its embarrassment. The November—mark that—issue of the slick magazine "Holiday" carries a long article boasting of the fact that "next year the world's first man-made moon will be launched in the United States." Holiday's November issue hit the newsstands about a week after the Russians launched their Sputnik. They, too, were well caught with their literary pants down.

OTTAWA REPORT

Grits Won't Defeat Gov't

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

OTTAWA—The first days of the Throne Speech debate, that traditional catch-all discussion which opens each session of Parliament, has produced a galaxy of surprises. The first was when Opposition Leader Louis St. Laurent declared that his Liberal party would abandon the traditional role of a parliamentary opposition. It would not, he said, vote against the Conservative government during the debate, but would sit around him, who should have been ready like a wolf-pack to pounce on any slip by the government, found that with their teeth thus pulled they could only bark but could not bite.

The Conservatives all but sang: "Who's afraid of the big, bad performing seal?" Another but welcome surprise was the announcement that the $40,000 Nobel Peace Prize had been awarded to Hon. Lester B. (Mike) Pearson, foreign affairs minister of the late Liberal government and odds-on favorite to be voted leader of his party at the convention next January. Some observers suggested that this well-deserved honour would obligate Mr. Pearson to rise above the hurly-burly of contention for political position, and instead to accept some high international appointment.

NO UNFAIR ADVANTAGE I don't think so. I believe that he will work to win the leadership, and hope for a few months before the election in which to consolidate his position and put some life into his supporters. Prime Minister Diefenbaker had less than six months before his election to the Conservative leadership and the general election. I don't believe that he would normally consider it either desirable or necessary to try to take advantage of the Liberals' unpreparedness by jockeying for a snap vote. But the strange behaviour of the Liberal opposition in Parliament has not been normal, and arm-chair quarterbacks of the political scene have been speculating on how soon Prime Minister Diefenbaker would be forced to go to the polls. REMEMBER SPUTNIK? The greatest surprise of parliament's opening days was that, among all the political in-fighting during question periods and the government debate, the Russian satellite was forgotten.

Yet surely Paul Martin, frequently acting foreign minister during the former Liberal administration, had not forgotten his brilliant suggestion at the disarmament talks two years ago when, foreseeing Sputnik and the logical developments to flow from Sputnik, he urged that disarmament should be regulated to cover not existing weapons but weapons not then created.

And surely Samia's J. W. Murphy had not forgotten his long parliamentary battle to have research recognized and encouraged by the Liberal government? Both these politicians were forecasting the result of our doing nothing in scientific development. Both could foresee Sputnik and the scientific threat to our freedom.

The free nations are lagging far behind Russia in the education of technicians and in scientific research. The remedy might be a scientific research program sponsored jointly by the governments of the North Atlantic nations. If we were to pool our resources in a NATO joint project, we could recover world leadership. But if we go on as we are doing now, we will merely fritter away our opportunity and our freedom. It was the waste of our present unco-ordinated and unplanned research which this column recently criticized on the specific topic of the Avro "Arrow" aircraft—a $200,000,000 waste of taxpayers' money already rendered a museum piece by the Russians' progress.

Has the time come to reconsider unrestricted free enterprise, when it leads to our technicians producing square-shouldered refrigerators and automobiles with even more surplus power in the name of bigger sales, while Russian technicians are conquering outer space?

B.C. Labor Will Support CCF

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Federation of Labor's historic decision Friday to support the CCF in provincial politics was a victory for "middle-of-the-road" unions.

Conservative and radical elements within the labor movement opposed supporting the CCF, but for different reasons. The two groups fought for an hour before the issue came to a vote.

The motion to give support to the socialist party was finally approved by an estimated 75 per cent of the 350 delegates to the convention here. The Federation has 100,000 members.

Robert Strachan, provincial leader of the CCF, said later the decision "will secure the CCF's work on behalf of the people."

Conservatively-inclined unions fought the motion on the grounds that labor should not become involved in politics. Left-wing groups said labor could not get anywhere politically by supporting the CCF alone.

Court Upholds Rape Sentence

VANCOUVER (CP)—A sentence of ten years and five strokes of the paddle each for Charles Thomas McLean, 26, John Knowlan, 27, and Alfred Raitton, 24, for rape was upheld by the court of appeal.

The trio, represented by D. J. McAlpine, were found guilty of an attack on July 31, 1956, on a 31-year-old woman in Stanley Park.

They were sentenced in assize court last May by Mr. Justice A. H. Manson.

Judgment was reserved on the appeal of John Russell Fennell, 29, who was given 10 years and a five-stroke whipping when he was found guilty before Mr. Justice Manson last May of rape.

King Saud Being Bitterly Criticized

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO (AP) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia is being bitterly accused in private conversations of acting like an American stooge by offering to mediate the Turkish-Syrian crisis.

On the surface everyone is still trying to be polite. But the offer threatens to drive a final wedge between the Arabian monarch and the Syrian-Egyptian front. Leaders of the anti-Western front believe Saud is being used as a tool by the Americans to save Turkey from "exposure" in the UN General Assembly of all its aggressively aggressive intentions.

SAUD "FINISHED" "As far as we are concerned, his mediation offer finishes Saud," an Egyptian close to the government told a newspaper correspondent today. "Saud is acting like an American stooge." Syrian leaders accuse Saud of trying to influence Syria to change its policy to favor the West.

Saud has been reported deeply disturbed by the split in Arab ranks that developed after Soviet officers took over the Syrian Army last August. But he has criticized statements that a left-Syria creates dangers in the Middle East.

There appeared a possibility Saud still might preserve the oft-damned facade of Arab unity by withdrawing his mediation offer and going all-out to support Syria's intransigent stand.

Attempts to sway Saud in this direction have been made in the Egyptian and Syrian press. Syrian President Shukri Kuwailat sent Saud an urgent message asking withdrawal of the offer and Saud telephoned in reply.

It appeared highly unlikely, however, that Saud could gracefully reverse his position so completely at this stage.

Relations of the oil-rich king with his poorer neighbors began wearing thin early this year. Saud visited Washington, renewed an agreement for an American air base at Dhahran and seemed favorably disposed toward the Eisenhower doctrine. He proclaimed his opposition to international communism something Egypt and Syria have been far from doing.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN EDGAR FORTUNE
FORMER KELOWNA GIRL WEDS

Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Edmonton, was the scene of a wedding of wide interest on October 19, when Ulla Freda Svean became the bride of John Edgar Fortune at a 3 p.m. ceremony.

Archdeacon W. M. Nainby read the marriage vows for the daughter of Mrs. Freda Svean, of Penticton, and the late H. E. Svean, and the son of Mrs. Fortune, of "Inglenook", West Town, Bristol, England, and the late G. E. Fortune.

The bride was born in, and attended school at, Kelowna, and was employed here until she joined the RCAF in 1953. Since that time she has been stationed at St. John's, Que., Whitehorse, Y.T., and Edmonton.

The groom, an aeronautical engineer, was educated in England, and he came to Canada three years ago after serving for two years as a pilot in the RAF. He is at present taking a course at the University of Alberta.

Given in marriage by Mr. R. R. Cooper, the bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, styled after a Givenchy original. The bodice was styled with a scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves, while the full skirt, in street length, had unpressed pleats set in the back. Her head-dress was a white satin bow, and held her chapel-length veil applied with roses from Chantilly lace, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses.

TRIO OF ATTENDANTS
The groom's sister, Mrs. Joan Wilkinson, was the bride's matron of honor; Miss Ada Melting was the bridesmaid and Miss Kathryn Wilkinson, the charming little flowergirl. The two senior attendants were dressed alike in satin afternoon dresses. Mrs. Wilkinson in bronze and Miss Melting in forest green. Their headresses of tulle matched their dresses and were fashioned in the style of short veils, and they carried semi-cascade bouquets of yellow Shasta mums.

Flowergirl Kathryn Wilkinson was gownned in a dress of yellow nylon; her headband was of tiny white rosebuds, and she carried a basket of bronze and yellow mums.

Mr. Allan Bellingham was the groomsmen, and Mr. MacDonald Knowler and Mr. Frank Potter ushered. Flowers in autumn colors banked the altar for the wedding.

RECEPTION AT SEVEN SEAS
A reception for 60 guests was held at Seven Seas, Edmonton, following the ceremony where Mr. W. James Anderson proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Svean wore a sheath dress in soft green wool, with which she chose winter-white accessories. The groom's mother was unable to be at her son's wedding, but a trans-Atlantic telephone call was arranged to her home in Bristol.

For going away the bride changed to a copper-tone wool suit and brown accessories, topped by a green coat. After the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Fortune will reside at 923 79th Ave., Edmonton.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. H. E. Svean, Penticton; W. J. Anderson, Calgary, and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wilkinson and children, of Cold Lake, Alta.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

"How Can I Help My Wife?" Begs Man Whose Wife Has Hysterics

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Can you help me? I've been reading your column for 15 years, and have liked your answers to other people's questions. I hope you can tell me how to help my wife.

She has been having hysterics. She has lost control of herself and cries and shouts loudly. The doctor gave her a shot that put her to sleep; also "tranquillizers" to keep her calm.

She says my family are driving her crazy. I have told them to leave her alone. I am afraid she will have a nervous breakdown. Our doctor mentioned a psychiatrist, but I can't afford $20 per visit, like they charge.

The local Mental Health Clinic has said that they are booked more than six months ahead, and on their waiting list. My wife says if she could just get the worries off her chest, she would be okay. We cannot go on like this. Please write soon. Respectfully, G. B. ARE WE ASKED FOR A MIRACLE?

DEAR G.B.: It sounds as if you had exhausted every practical resource, and now were expecting this column to provide help of a miraculous nature. If you've seen your doctor, who furnished relatives, and if you can't afford private psychiatric therapy, and if the local Mental Hygiene Clinic is too overburdened to provide emergency care, one might reasonably say—"Well, there is nothing more to suggest."

However, let's persevere. You express fear that your wife may have a nervous breakdown. Actually, she is already having a nervous breakdown—so don't let the term scare you. A nervous breakdown is more or less a case of nervous exhaustion and acute irritability and despondency—expressed in tears, touchy intolerance of daily vicissitudes, and so on.

NATURE'S WAY OF SAYING HALT
As for what causes nervous breakdown, it is the net result of prolonged emotional stress and strain—from which there has been no respite or relief, in terms of gaiety, rest, the refreshment of sympathetic companionship, etc.

Specialists say that everyone has his "hot" breaking point. And while some people are tougher than others, in enduring stress, nobody can do so indefinitely without giving way—which is Nature's method of enforcing a lay-off, for recuperative purposes.

In the circumstances, your wife is up against the proposition of healing herself, it seems. And in order to know what steps to take, she might read (with you) the following two books: 1. "How to Live 365 Days a Year" (Prentice-Hall Publishers), by Dr. John A. Schindler. 2. "Mental Health Through Will Training" (Christopher Publishing House, Boston), by Dr. Abraham A. Low.

Dr. Schindler's book outlines steps to fulfillment of six basic emotional needs that must be met to maintain health and happiness. We need: 1. High regard and affection of others, who think of us as important and valuable persons. 2. A strong sense of security, free from nagging fears. 3. Outlets for our powers of creative expression—in hobbies, work or other ways. 4. Appreciation we deserve from those who mean most to us. 5. Now experienced that give living a "lift". 6. Replenished self esteem and self-assurance.

SELF-HELP GROUPS MAY BE AVAILABLE
Dr. Low's book is a collection of true stories of real people with emotional problems—told in the form of interviews and panel discussions. As their stories unfold, we see these people solving their problems by means of "will" training, temper control and symptom analysis (not psycho-analysis!).

The results of the late Dr. Low's methods have proved so satisfactory to many former patients that they've formed permanent self-help groups in their home communities—and this informal organization is known as "Recovery, Inc." Central headquarters of Recovery Inc. are at 116 South Michigan Avenue in Chicago, Illinois.—If you care to enquire about the likelihood of finding such a group near you, M.H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, but by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of The Kelowna Daily Courier.

Stewardess On Royal Plane Had Time To Visit Home

VICTORIA (CP)—Stewardess Miss Velma Brown, 25, the only Canadian member of the plane crew carrying Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, had time to visit her parents here before the royal couple returned to England from their North American visit.

A slender brunette with sparkling blue eyes, she looked smart in a grey jersey "sack" dress and a fuschsia beret.

"When I arrived in London after my last flight, I was told I wouldn't be going out again for a while," she said.

"The girl with whom I share an apartment, also a stewardess, said: 'You must be going on the royal flight.' I had no idea that it would be true."

"I was told I'd been chosen just 10 days before the departure date. Those of us in the crew had a thorough briefing and attended a class in deportment to make sure we knew how to curtsy, but our original training had prepared us for an eventuality like this."

Messages of congratulation poured into the London flat, and Miss Brown was interviewed on both English television channels.

"No, I wasn't a bit nervous even on the day we left," she said.

When she arrived at London airport she found the royal air-liner filled with masses of flowers. The royal retinue arrived first, and Miss Brown was occupied in getting them settled until the Queen and Prince Philip arrived 10 minutes later.

Her curtsy to the prince was a bit cramped as she was hanging up coats in a tiny closet when she saw him just beside her in the plane aisle.

"We had a very busy time during the trip," she said. "There were three meals to serve 27 passengers. I looked after members of the retinue, while the other stewardesses served the Queen and Prince."

Miss Brown attended high school here and graduated in radiography from St. Joseph's Hospital. She went to London in 1953 and spent two years as radiographer at University College Hospital.

She joined British Overseas Airways Corporation in 1955 and has recently transferred to trans-Atlantic flights after some months on the Far East route.

Young Artists Perform Here Wed. Evening

Under the sponsorship of the Registered Music Teachers of Kelowna, in co-operation with the Musical Festival Association, Miss Patricia-Siwiek, soprano, and Jack Gordon, pianist, will present a program, Leder by Schubert, five of early classics and the modern.

Of interest to music-lovers will be the performance of the Beethoven piano 'sonata, Opus 109, in E major. This sonata is called the Hammerklavier, and is considered to be some of the most difficult piano music ever written.

Miss Siwiek has included in her program, Leder by Schubert, Schumann and Wolf. These and a group of moderns, which includes The Tryst by Sibelius, will provide an outstanding vocal treat, to be heard in the senior high school auditorium, Wednesday, October 30, at 8 p.m.

CGIT Group To Hold Hallowe'en "Blitz"

Kelowna will experience a "blitz" on Hallowe'en.

CGIT girls, in co-operation with the United Nations Children's Fund, will hold a two-and-a-half-hour blitz to raise money that will be used by UNICEF to buy milk, food, vaccine and other articles for the underprivileged children of the world.

Wearing regulation middieys and carrying specially-labelled bottles, four CGIT groups each will be assigned a zone for which it will be responsible, and canvassing will be carried out from 7:30 to 10 p.m., Oct. 31.

Obviously, 30 girls cannot begin to cover the entire city in that time; therefore only the immediate centre will be canvassed. However, any citizens wishing to do so, will be invited to join the blitz.

Invited to send his contributions to the CGIT treasurer: Miss Jackie Glen, 746 Glenwood Ave., Kelowna.

Mother Cares For Home From Her Wheelchair

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Mrs. Eric Grayston attends efficiently to her household duties from a wheelchair.

Stricken with polio two years ago, she quickly adjusted her life. The Kiwanis club helped her to re-equip her kitchen with a sink and counter low enough to enable her to wash dishes from her chair.

Her overhead cupboards slide across, so that she is able to reach up to pick out or put away dishes.

She vacuums the rooms with the aid of her husband.

As a member of the American Psychological Association, I was impressed and immensely pleased when I also heard Dr. Mowrer say further that psychology has not even asked the right questions—"The great, searching, soul-shaking questions of life and death which lie at the very heart of human experience and existence."

Recalling the late Dr. Henry Link's prophetic book, "Return to Religion," Dr. Mowrer noted that it is "striking how many psychologists, themselves, are quietly going back to church or are at least carefully sending their children to Sunday School."

GROWING EMPHASIS
After also noting the growing emphasis on psychology in theological seminaries and in pastoral counseling, Dr. Mowrer said that this history-breaking symposium on religion as a major part of the convention of the American Psychological Association was far from an occasion for celebration but rather "a call to labor in a vineyard which we psychologists have rather systematically neglected and despised."

Attendance At Church Shows A Steady Rise In United States

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.
In the United States, attendance at church and synagogue is rising. It reached an all-time high last year, gaining 3 per cent while the estimated population increased 1.7 per cent.

MORE MEMBERS
About 62 out of every 100 persons are members of a church or synagogue. A century ago only 20 out of every 100 were. Sunday school attendance was up 2.5% to a total of 40,000,000.

Tribute was paid to the increasing number of persons enlisting in religious faiths by psychologists of high scientific standing at the meeting of the American Psychological Association last September.

At a symposium on the relationship between religion and mental health, Dr. O. H. Mowrer, Professor of Psychology at Illinois University, and a recent past president of the American Psychological Association, practically summarized the papers at this symposium when he said that for a decade or more many in his profession "had been vaguely aware that there is something seriously amiss in psychology, both as a science and a profession."

Flu Bug And Kamloops Jinx Add Up To Packers 1st Loss

By GEORGE INGLIS

The energetic 'flu bug got on the side of the Kamloops arena jinx that has plagued the Kelowna Packers in the northern ice palace for three years, and helped Ken McKenzie's Chiefs become the first to knock over the Kelowna Packers this year.

The bug made it's heaviest inroads in the defence corps, where the trio of Pat Coburn, Harry Smith and Andy McCallum, who have been carrying the defence chores among themselves for the five league starts to date just crumpled under the combined pressure of flu and fatigue.

Smith's magnificent physique had a further load to carry, with two hot and heavy sparring duels in two nights—the one with Ted Leboldia on Friday and with Lloyd Hinchberger on Saturday—to further tire him out.

Coburn had carried the bug around for over a week, fighting it and carrying on in harness, but Saturday night his knees were having trouble taking him where his head told him he wanted to go.

Greg Jablonski, slated to dress for the game, was in bed with the active disease, and both Warren Hicks and Ken Schmautz dressed for the game.

Moe Young, just out of his bed in time for the game, found the going pretty rough after the first frame, and that was pretty well the story of the Packers' life on Saturday night.

Contrary to the Canadian Press roundup, which termed the Packers as "just another hockey club" on Saturday night—they were a pretty tired and unhealthy club, and were beaten by hustle and drive they had no answer for.

Even their energetic and fiery mentor Jack O'Reilly was laid low by the bug, having been smitten on Friday in a rush visit of the virulent virus, stricken within one hour and confined to bed.

In the first frame the Packers played with the form and bounce that has carried them into the leadership, out-scoring the Kamloops club 3-1, and showing plenty of hustle.

It was in the second frame that they wilted, and the hustling Chiefs poured in 20 shots to the Packers' seven, a record of shots that just hasn't happened to the club so far this year. In every frame they have played they have been no further than two shots behind, and most frequently on the long end of the scoring.

In this frame the Chiefs scored three goals, and the Packers failed to answer, setting the score at 4-3 for the Chiefs.

The Packers made a valiant attempt at a come-back in the final frame, as Young came through with his second goal of the evening, tying the game at 1-1.

Prince set the Chiefs ahead again, however at the 7:15 mark, and it was too big a hurdle for the tired and flu-ridden club, even though they yanked goalie Dave Gatherum in the final moments of play in an endeavor to even things up.

The win for the Chiefs places them only two points behind the Packers now, with the Penitents Vees just two points less than them, and the Vernon Canadians trailing the pack, in the league basement.

Tuesday night the Packers travel to Vernon, and they should have Al Pyett back in the defence line-up for his first appearance in a league game, adding to the trio that have been carrying the load so far. Pyett has been suffering from a badly bashed face, received in practice from a hard slap shot, and a bout of the flu to top it off.

The remainder of the club, with a weekend of rest to put them in better fettle should be going again, and they will probably have to, since coach George Agar will be trying his best to get his club out of their winless slump.

This week's action should be fast and furious, with the league standings probably considerably different than last week's.

TWO-GOAL EFFORT

Despite a two-goal effort on the part of sturdy left-winger Moe Young, above, the Packers suffered their first defeat on Saturday night in the Kamloops arena. Aided by equal parts of Kamloops jinx, 'flu bug and fatigue, the Chiefs edged the Packers 5-1 in a contest which saw the tired local club wilt in the second frame. Young himself was just out of bed for the game, and was pretty well rubber-legged during the middle frame.

Worm Turning In NHL Point Battle Point Leaders

By The Canadian Press
The little guys are throwing around the most weight today in the National Hockey League.

That isn't a suggestion that Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers physically are smaller than the other four clubs. But for some years Hawks have been league doormats and as for New York—well, against Montreal Canadians any team can be considered a little guy.

WIN IN DETROIT
But now Hawks and Rangers are getting plenty of notice. Last night Chicago won their first game in 15 starts on Detroit Red Wings 3-0. New York ended Montreal's seven-game unbeaten string and jumped into second place behind Canadians with a 4-1 victory.

The scores were more routine Saturday. Rookie centre Frank Mahovich scored twice to lead Toronto Maple Leafs to a 3-0 home victory over Rangers. Maurice Richard's 501st regular season goal broke a 3-3 tie and gave Montreal a 4-3 win over Boston Bruins.

The weekend results left Montreal on top with five wins and two ties in eight starts. New York's win jumped the club into second, three points back. Chicago moved to fourth, one point behind Boston, which now has lost four straight after opening with four victories. Detroit is one point back in fifth, two ahead of Toronto.

FANS CHANCE SIDES
Former Wing goalie Glenn Hall was outstanding in Chicago's first visit to Detroit this season. The 11,828 fans gave Hawks what must have seemed to be an odd reception, cheering them lustily and jeering Detroit.

Ron Murphy opened scoring in the second period and the Nick Mickoski-Glen Skov - Bob Bailey line clicked for two third-period goals. Mickoski and Skov did the scoring with the others drawing assists.

Another former Wing Star, Ted Lindsay, was not on for any of the goals. His three penalties included a 10-minute misconduct for arguing after drawing a minor or for vigorously cross-checking former linemate Gordie Howe. Hall stopped 28 shots and Terry Sawchuk, also outstanding, halted 29.

Camille Henri and Danny Lewicki each fired two goals for Rangers. Montreal's Dickie Moore counted the first period's only goal. Lewicki tied it after one minute of the second and Henri moved New York into the lead five minutes later.

Saturday at Toronto Mahovich began to live up to some of the advance notice he received when he paced the Leafs victory with two goals.

His first goal came on a pass close in from Dick Duff in the first period. In the final period he took Bob Baum's pass at Rangers' blue line, faked Worsley out of position, and shot into the far corner. Ted Sloan finished the scoring.

BRUINS SHOW FIGHT
Montreal appeared to have its fifth victory in the bag when it opened up a 3-0 lead early in the second period on goals by Henri Richard, Bernie Goeffron and Bert Olinstead.

Brinsford started their comeback less than three minutes later. Johnny Bucyk's shot bounced off Lollard St. Laurent's stick, struck Dickie Moore in the face and bounced into the clear. Bucyk swooped in and whipped it home. Moore went out for five stitches.

Larry Regan and Fleming MacKell tied the score and set the stage for Maurice Richard's winner midway through the final period.

FOUND FLORIDA
Juan Ponce de Leon, veteran of one Columbus voyage, found and named Florida in 1513.

For 281 yards, but six of their forwards were intercepted and one interception led to a Saskatchewan touchdown. Frank Tripucka and Ron Adam of Riders completed eight of 18 passes for 189 yards, and one was intercepted.

One of Marlow's touchdowns came on a four-yard plunge after he had scampered 43 yards through a gaping hole in the Calgary defence. Another followed his recovery of a fumble on the Calgary 10, and for his third he clinched and Nobby Winkowski ran 23 yards after intercepting a completed 16 of their 32 passes. Clinkscale pass on the Calgary 23.

Packers Suffer 1st Loss From Chiefs

Flu Biting, WHL Cancels First Game

By The Canadian Press

Flu and the Seattle Americans were responsible for the unfortunate Victoria Cougars' seventh and eighth defeats in as many starts in weekend Western Hockey League play.

So bad had things become that WHL president Al Leader announced Sunday that the Cougars' scheduled Tuesday night game against Vancouver Canucks would be postponed.

In Seattle Sunday night, Victoria took the ice with only 11 men, three less than Seattle, and went down to a 5-2 defeat.

Four other games during the weekend left Vancouver with 11 points out in the clear above the three other coast clubs while Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Edmonton were all bunched at the top of the Prairie Division standings with six points each.

IDENTICAL SCORES
Saturday night Seattle defeated Victoria by an identical 5-2 margin. Vancouver pulled from behind to whip New Westminster 5-3, Edmonton eased past Winnipeg 2-1 and Calgary made the best of Saskatoon-St. Paul 4-1.

In the Sunday game, Val Fonteyne and Don Chiupka both scored a pair for Seattle. The Americans are two points behind Vancouver.

Victoria's points came in the third period when Eddie Dorohoy and Frank Milne reduced their team's arrears.

In their Saturday meeting, Chivupka and Rudy Filion each scored two and Ray Kinasevich one for the Americans. Blinky Boyce and Doug Macauley scored for Victoria.

That encounter, too, was dogged by flu. Gordie Wilson, Larry Leach and Don Matheson all failed to skate for the Cougars.

LEAD WIPED OUT
Vancouver came from behind a 2-0 deficit to defeat New Westminster 5-3 and stretch their record of five games without defeat before 5,000 fans. New Westminster took a 2-1 lead in the second.

Captain Phil Maloney with two goals and an assist and newcomer Ed McQueen with two goals paced the Vancouver attack. The Canucks' other scorers were Bob Robinson.

For New Westminster, rookie Art Jones scored twice with Dick Van Impe notching the third. Hugh Barlow counted two assists.

Metro Prystai scored an unsisted third-period goal to give Edmonton Flyers their hard-fought 2-1 victory over Winnipeg. Billy McNeill tied the count at 1-1 only 27 seconds before Prystai scored from a face-off.

The only Winnipeg goal came when Howie Glover slid a low shot to the left corner of the net, after two bruising, scoreless periods.

SECOND VICTORY
Calgary registered its second victory in seven games as it won their defeat of Saskatoon-St. Paul. They had earlier defeated the Regals for their first win.

Dusty Blair, Fred Hucul, Merv Kurlyuk and Mid Houghton scored for the Cowboys. Bob Chorley was the lone Regal scorer.

The league is idle tonight. Calgary plays at Edmonton and New Westminster will be in Winnipeg Tuesday night.

Japanese Golfer Wins Canada Cup In Tokyo Global Tourney

TOKYO (CP)—A little 42-year-old Japanese golf instructor out-shot some of the greatest shot-makers in the game to win the International Golf Trophy Sunday. Torakichi Nakamura had sensational rounds of 68-68-67-71 over the par-72 Kasumigaseki Country Club course for a 72-hole total of 274.

His closest opponents were seven strokes away.

Nakamura's fine display was backed up by steady play from teammate Koichi Ono to give Japan the Canada Cup team trophy in the 30-country competition.

They held a nine-stroke margin over the runner-up United States team of Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret, with an aggregate of 557 to 566 for the Americans.

CANADA SIXTH
Canada's entry of Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Lachute, Que., and Toronto's Al Baiding was total of 576. Leonard, who won the individual trophy when it was first put up for competition in 1953 in Quebec, was tied with Ono for fifth place in the individual scores, each with 283.

The man who runs the show today predicted the Canada Cup competition soon will become "the Olympics of golf," the true test of international supremacy in the sport.

"Even the Russians will find it inexpedient to stay out—they'll have to come in," added Frank Pace Jr., former U.S. secretary of the army who is president of the International Golf Association.

"The surprising victory of the Japanese here last weekend is proof in itself that the game has become global. The day is past when Britain and the United States can feel their Ryder Cup and Walker Cup matches determine the championship among nations."

The two-part tournament was the brainchild of the late John Jay Hopkins when he was board chairman of Canadian, Ltd., at Montreal.

SOUTH AMERICA NEXT
Pace said the next tournament probably would be held in South America. "We want the tournament to rotate around all the continents."

The first two tournaments were held in Canada, the third in Washington, D.C., and last year in England.

Following Japan and the United States in the Canada Cup were South Africa Player and Gary Henning at 269; Australia Thomson and Crampton 572; 18:21.

Throw Out the Abacus, Dad The Stamps Made Third

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Lions were left a hopeless three points behind Calgary with just one game remaining.

ESKIMOS REST
Thus did Stampede enter the Western Interprovincial Football Union playoffs. They will meet Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the semi-finals Nov. 9 and 11. Eskimos have a buy into the best-of-three finals which start Nov. 16.

Three remaining games will have no effect on WIFU standings. Stampede and Bombers clash at Winnipeg in tonight's game, and the schedule closes next Saturday with Edmonton at Regina and Winnipeg at Saturday with a 29-0 whipping, and Vancouver.

Meanwhile, B.C. Lions had been closing the gap with only one loss in five starts. But Eskimos muffed the Lions' roar Saturday with a 29-0 whipping, and Vancouver.

With Eskimos and Bombers virtually assured for several weeks of playoff action and the Calgary-B.C. battle chiefly a statistical one, spectator interest has been flagging. Only 8,500 saw the game at Regina's Taylor Field which averaged nearly 13,000 fans a game last season, and the 14,000 at Edmonton—3,000 below average—was this season's smallest crowd.

CAUTIOUS ATTACK
The Edmonton fans didn't see much of Eskimos' razz-dazzle. Usually spectacular Jackie Parker called a cautious, easy-going game from quarterback as Eskimos seemed determined to avoid injuries.

The Grey Cup champions vaulted into a 14-0 lead in the first quarter on converted touchdowns. One touchdown by Normie Kwong came after Lions lost on a third-down one-yard gamble from their own 37, and the second by Johnny Bright followed a fumble by Joe Yamauchi on the Lions 11.

End Joe Mobra kicked two field goals, two singles and three converts, and in the final minute of play fullback Jim Shinka plunged five yards for a third Esk touchdown.

Parker completed 14 of 20 passes to move Edmonton 235 yards through the air while the club picked up 225 yards rushing. Lions' ground attack netted 100 yards, and quarter Maury Duncan completed nine of 17 forwards for 120 yards. Eskimos had a 22-13 margin in first downs.

MARLOW SCORES THREE
At Regina, fullback Bobby Marlow was juggling the ball occasionally because he had a cast on his broken hand. But he scored three touchdowns anyway, and ripped holes in the Calgary line consistently.

Halfback Sam Wesley scored the other Rider touchdown and guard Rex Whithouse converted all four. A safety touch and two singles provided the other four Rider points.

Half Dick Washington and end Ernie Warlick scored Calgary's two touchdowns. Bud Korchak was good on one of his two convert attempts, and Ted Duncan booted a single.

Riders won the game along the ground, moving 203 yards to Calgary's 42. Calgary quarters Ron Clinkscale and Nobby Winkowski completed 16 of their 32 passes. Clinkscale pass on the Calgary 23.

for 281 yards, but six of their forwards were intercepted and one interception led to a Saskatchewan touchdown. Frank Tripucka and Ron Adam of Riders completed eight of 18 passes for 189 yards, and one was intercepted.

One of Marlow's touchdowns came on a four-yard plunge after he had scampered 43 yards through a gaping hole in the Calgary defence. Another followed his recovery of a fumble on the Calgary 10, and for his third he clinched and Nobby Winkowski ran 23 yards after intercepting a completed 16 of their 32 passes. Clinkscale pass on the Calgary 23.

Aids For Ailing House

RUSTY SHELVES

QUESTION: The shelves in my apartment refrigerator have lost most of their plating and are quite rusty. I keep them clean, but don't like their appearance. Is there any way to fix them, without too much expense?

ANSWER: I suggest you clean off the rust by rubbing with steel wool dipped in mineral oil. When the metal is bare and bright, keep it lightly coated with mineral oil to prevent further rusting.

IODINE STAIN ON LINOLEUM

QUESTION: Iodine was accidentally spilled on my kitchen floor. How can the stain be removed?

ANSWER: Dampen a cellulose sponge with household ammonia and rub the stain. Work as quickly as possible, to avoid possibility of harming the linoleum. Rinse with clear water. If the stain is at or near a joint in the linoleum, wipe up the rinse water as soon as possible, so that it will not work down into the cement, which might eventually cause loosening.

EDGES OF CONCRETE DAMP

QUESTION: Along the outer walls of our four-year-old house, water puddles formed all winter long. We have a concrete floor. There is radiant heat in the floors which has never been connected. If that were turned on, would it solve our problem, or what would you suggest?

ANSWER: Certainly, I believe connecting the radiant heat would help considerably, as well as to keep the house warmer. And, since, as you say, you'd like to make any corrections this summer before the next cold weather arrives, I also highly recommend that you consult a building contractor in regard to installing perimeter insulation. Usually, this consists of slabs of water-proofing insulation, such as styrofoam slabs, around the edges of the floor and is exceedingly effective at preventing moisture penetration at these critical points.

NO GLOSS ON LINOLEUM

QUESTION: My kitchen linoleum is in excellent condition but has no gloss. I have tried varnish and several kinds of wax, but the floor appears soiled and the gloss disappears. Can you suggest any remedy?

ANSWER: The surface of the linoleum has probably been damaged in your efforts to obtain a high gloss finish. Linoleum is not expected to have a high gloss finish. A high polish, when subjected to foot traffic, wears off regardless of the type of material. After removing the varnish, use a good grade of floor wax.

HANGING PICTURES

QUESTION: When I drove a nail, to hang a picture, into plaster wall, large pieces of plaster fell out. Now I am afraid to try again for fear of ruining more plaster. What can be done?

ANSWER: Make a letter "X" with Scotch tape where you intend to drive the nail and drive the nail through the centre of the "X". The Scotch tape will prevent splintering the plaster. At hardware stores there are available special "toggle type" screws for driving into plaster.

for picture hanging. They are safer to use than nails, from the point of view of damage to the wall.

OIL-STAINED OVERALLS

QUESTION: Would like to clean overalls that are badly smeared and soaked with oil and grease. What is the best way to do this?

ANSWER: Half fill either a galvanized laundry tub or large half cup of trisodium phosphate pail, with warm water, adding a and a few drops of household ammonia. Soak the overalls for several hours. Then, wash them in washing machine, using the same solution strength (fresh, of course). Or use any of the commercial cleaners and detergents which cut grease well, following label directions, carefully.

"SWEATING" DOORS

QUESTION: Our front and side doors, during this past winter, were usually covered with moisture. Now the wood is turning a chalky white. What was the cause of this and can it be prevented?

ANSWER: This is condensation occurring because the cold outside air chilled the doors at the same time the warm house air flowed against them. The result is that the warm air condenses on the door, becoming a film of water. The whiteness appears, for the same reason, a wet glass will leave a ring of white on varnished surface. I recommend your considering storm doors for next winter to prevent a recurrence. These will provide an insulating dead air space, which will keep the warm air and cold air apart, and effectively check condensation; lower heating costs, too.

WOBBLY ROCKER

QUESTION: My old rocker has become wobbly and developed a squeak. How can joints be tightened?

ANSWER: Easiest way is to get new preparation made especially for loose joints (available at well-stocked hardware stores and hardware stores) and chair rung. Material is just "squirted" into the loose joints and causes wood to swell, making a tight closure. Well-known household cements and glues will be very effective, too.

OIL PAINT OVER CASEIN

QUESTION: We used a casein paint last time we decorated. Can we repaint with an oil base paint now?

ANSWER: This can be done, but first apply a coat of varnish-size. Then the results will be satisfactory.

FLOORS Planning new life for your old floors with tile, linoleum, or wall-to-wall carpeting? To do an A-1 job, you must start with a smooth floor surface. Sylvaply underlayment sheathing does a professional job quickly at low cost.

SHELVING Need really low cost storage in attic or basement? For sturdy shelving and cupboards for preserves, tools, or clothing, Sylvaply sheathing grade plywood does a practical job — saves money in the bargain.

PARTITIONING Need extra basement or attic rooms at smallest possible cost? Do simple partitioning with Sylvaply sheathing grade panels nailed to 2"x4" framing. Rugged and practical. Convert to finished rooms later on with decorative and sanded grades of Sylvaply.

KITCHEN REMODELLING Want to remodel your kitchen? Ask your dealer how, by using low-cost construction grades in "hidden" areas, Sylvaply really cuts costs. Your dealer can give you money-saving advice on materials and arrange easy financing to help you get that "new look" kitchen now.

BASEMENT STORAGE WALL Need closet space in your basement for garden clothes, hobby gear, sports equipment, etc.? Under the stairs, in a corner or wherever you have space going to waste, use Sylvaply sheathing grade on 1"x2" framing. Sylvaply is easy to saw — easy to nail. Saves you time as well as money.

OUTDOOR STORAGE SPACE Garden sheds, tool storage units, play houses — they're easy and cheap to construct with Sheathing Grade Sylvaply. All grades of Sylvaply are made with waterproof-glue for use indoors and outdoors.

Her death occurred in the Kelowna hospital Friday. Rev. A. A. T. Northrop will conduct the final rites at 2:00 p.m. in Day's Chapel of Remembrance and officiate at the committal at the Kelowna cemetery.

Born in Vancouver, she came with her parents to Westbank in July, 1935. She was a student at the Westbank elementary school. Besides her parents she leaves two brothers and two sisters—Richard, Douglas, Denise and Donna, also her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Earle of New Westminster and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richardson of Vancouver.

Ex-Sweep Winner

Gets Horse Again

VANCOUVER (CP) — The wife of a German immigrant who won $28,000 in last June's Irish Sweepstakes has drawn a ticket on a horse scheduled to run in the Cambridge Handicap Wednesday.

Mrs. Edith Gehrens is among 54 ticket-holders in B.C. Last June her husband, Gunter, held a half interest in a ticket which won second prize of $56,000. Her horse, Mosterton, is listed as a likely starter but isn't the favorite.

Hold Final Rites

For Edwin Clark

Ven. D. S. Catchpole conducted final rites at St. Michael and All Angels' Church this afternoon for Edwin James Clark, late of No. 9, Watt Road. Funeral services concluded at the Kelowna cemetery for the committal.

A resident of the city since coming here in 1948 to retire, Mr. Clark died in the local hospital Saturday. He was 68 years of age.

A native of St. Paul, Minn., he came to Canada as a child, was educated at Winnipeg and later took up employment with a flour-milling company. Married in Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. Clark lived for some time in Fort William, Ont., and then went into business at Geraldton, Ont., until coming to Kelowna.

He was a member of St. George's Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and also of the Shrine. He was also president of the White Cane Club.

Besides his wife, Ruth, he leaves one son, Richard.

Palbearers were members of St. George's Lodge: William Fray, Leslie Stephens, James Monteith, Gilbert Mervyn, Sandy Rennie and William McFetridge.

Day's Funeral Service Ltd. was in charge.

Infant Laid To Rest

Peter Donald, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sandberg, Kelowna, died Friday at the local hospital.

Funeral service was held this afternoon at Day's Chapel of Remembrance, with Rt. Rev. W. B. McKenzie officiating. Burial was in the Kelowna cemetery. Also surviving is one sister, Sharon.

Turkish Frontier Full Of Sunshine

SYRIA have claimed the Turks are DER (AP)—The border the world is carrying about a sun of joy, sunshine and business as usual.

Six divisions of Turkish infantry and armor are bunched in a position near the frontier.

Tents, trucks and tanks line the winding roads. Highways are busy with military traffic and tanned, tough Turkish soldiers stand guard in fields and villages.

But here, where the Russians say world war could start, life goes on at its age-old pace in the warm autumn sun.

There are sheep in the fields as well as soldiers, and farm trucks on the roads.

Normally Turkey patrols her southern border lightly with a few elements of her 2nd army.

WATCH RED BUILDUP

But in Ankara the government watched anxiously the mounting evidence of a Soviet buildup in Syria. Last August, when leftists seized control of the Syrian army and the Red buildup increased in pace, Turkey moved more of her army to the border.

The army is here, Turkey insists, on manoeuvres. But nervous Syria and threatening Rus-

RCMP Pension To Be Boosted Says Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Retired RCMP officers have appealed to the government for a pension boost and a spokesman for the group said today the prospects were encouraging.

Eric Osborne of Calgary, president of the RCMP Veterans' Association, headed a delegation which conferred with Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Finance Minister Fleming and other cabinet officials.

Mr. Osborne reported Mr. Fleming as saying the question of boosting pensions of retired RCMP members is definitely under consideration and may be tied in with a general boost in pensions for all civil servants.

Churchill Sings With Schoolboys

HARROW, England (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill visited his old school here Friday night and joined 600 boys in a singsong.

The 82-year-old former prime minister sang heartily, and from memory, songs that had been sung for generations at the famed school atop a hill to the northwest of London.

Opening lead—king of spades. This hand goes back to the early days of contract bridge. It highlights the important role deception can play in defensive tactics. Hero of the hand was Al Morehead, well-known bridge editor and writer, who held the West cards.

After winning the king of spades, it became obvious to Morehead that a shift to another suit was mandatory. He dismissed the thought of leading the ace of clubs because there was too much danger that declarer had the king of clubs.

Any trump honor East might have appeared to be dead, considering Morehead's trump holding, so he decided that the only chance to defeat the contract lay in protecting whatever diamond strength East held.

Accordingly, he led the nine of diamonds as part of a scheme to create a diamond trick which couldn't very well exist naturally.

The ruse was successful. Declarer logically assumed that the nine was either a singleton or art of a 9-x doubleton. If this was true, East must have been "alt K-10-x or K-10-x-x. To cope with both possibilities, it was necessary to cover the nine with "ummy's queen."

So the queen was played, East covered with the king, and declarer took the ace. Three rounds of trumps were led, ending in dummy, the six of diamonds was led, and a finesse was taken against East's (non-existent) ten.

West won, to South's surprise, and led the ace of spades. Declarer ruffed, but had to lose two club tricks, and went down one.

If declarer had been left to his own devices—let's say Morehead had let the ten of hearts at trick two—he would very likely have made the hand.

He would presumably have entered dummy with the jack of hearts and led a low diamond to the jack. The ace would then have caught the king and eliminated the diamond loser. And that would have been the end of that.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

The Stars Say

FOR TOMORROW
Do not scatter your energies now. Undertaking a variety of projects simultaneously could result in confusion and unsatisfactory work. Your leisure hours may be limited, so make the most of them.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that the next two months should provide you with many occupational challenges. Your innate determination and ambitious drive should help you to meet these handily, but one word of caution: In your zeal to get ahead, don't tread on sensitive toes or you could lose out.

You may experience some anxiety in financial matters late next month but a little serious thinking on your part should help to resolve problems. Important: Avoid extravagance. Personal relationships will be under good aspects for most of the year ahead, with travel and romance especially favored in mid-1958.

A child born on this day will be ambitious and imaginative, and will work persistently to gain material comforts.

Townsend Courting "Miss Universe?"
LIMA, Peru (AP)—Group Capt. Peter Townsend, who left England to get away from it all after the end of his romance with Princess Margaret, is seeing a lot of the world—and Miss Universe.

Miss Universe is Gladys Zender, 18, Peruvian brunette. They first met last Friday when the former court squermy drove into Lima on his world tour and attended a party in her honor.

Miss Universe, says friends, got along fine with Townsend. She laughed and danced. She taught him the mariner, a popular Peruvian dance.

Now Townsend is off to Arequipa, a southern Chilean city—to attend a reception in honor of Miss Universe.
